

I WAS A STRANGER

Victims of fear, victims of violence, and victims of terror, more than 21 million men, women, and even unaccompanied children have been forced to leave their lives behind to seek safety in a new country. Every refugee is a person worthy of compassion.

“During the past several months of working with refugees, I have not encountered even one for whom Jesus didn’t die—no matter how dirty, scared, cold, hungry, smelly, mocked, sick, small, or badly treated they were.”

Maja Ahac, ADRA Slovenia
